Russian and French Attack Forts

Chinese Replied and Exploding
Mines Made Deadly Havoc

Victoria, B C, Oct 17

J O Hemmet, one of the passengers returning on the Empress of Japan, was present at the taking of the Peitang forts by the Germans and Russians. He says the French artillery was present but did not take part, and the British arrived after the Chinese guns were silenced. The Russians opened fire at 2 a m, and fired six shots before the Chinese replied with shrapnel which burst among the attackers. As the advance continued several mines exploded and two mounted officers and ponies were blown into the air. The gunners got the range about 7 a m, and landed shells in the forts, which were soon ablaze and the Chinese guns silenced.

Classifying the Lands.

A Camp of the Dawes Commission
at Work Near Rush Springs.

Rush Springs, October 15

Camp No. 4 of the Dawes commission has arrived here for the purpose of classifying the lands preparatory to allotment. This work is being pushed rapidly to completion. Camps 1, 2, and 3 are also in the field near this place, their work being divided into sections of six miles in width, with a large force in each camp.
